Biodegradable & Recyclable Paint Trays, Accessories

American Trade Products (ATP) has introduced a new line of biodegradable and recyclable paint trays and accessories made with a breakthrough material called Earth Plastic™.

Earth Plastic products break down in landfills and compost environments, so, whether a consumer recycles or simply throws away trash in a landfill, at least everyone always is “being green.”

Earth Plastic paint trays and accessories are made from recycled materials — primarily plastic water bottles — so they're saving millions of bottles from entering landfills each year.

These environmentally friendly products are priced competitively with non-biodegradable counterparts, so there is no issue with this “green” product costing more.
